Why Should You Attend? You've probably taken thousands of pictures. You upgraded from point-and-shoot or smartphone photography to the realm of digital SLRs because you wanted better image quality and more control of the creative process. You already have an understanding of your camera's controls and the relationship between ISO, aperture and shutter speed. You know how to stop action and how to control depth of field.

But somehow, your photographs just seem ordinary, lacking that "wow" factor that makes other people's photographs stand out. The goal of this class is to show you ways to raise your photography to a new level, so that you, too, can make some "wow" photographic statements of your own.

The emphasis will be primarily on photographing landscapes and nature. There won't be talk about equipment you should have, but rather how to make stellar images with the equipment you already have. Lunch provided. Come and join us. You'll be glad you did!
