

Making Sharper Images

A Hands-On Workshop

Presented by

John Snell

and the

Lexington School of Photography

Saturday, September 13th, 2014

9:00 a.m.-4:00 pm

400 Old Vine St., #200

Why Should You Attend? You've probably taken thousands of pictures. You upgraded from point-and-shoot or smartphone photography to the realm of digital SLRs because you wanted better image quality and more control of the creative process.

But somehow, your photographs don't have that "snap" that says you captured "tack sharp" images. The goal of this class is to show you how to dramatically improve your percentage of sharp photos, regardless of whether you're shooting stationary or moving subjects, or whether your camera is on a tripod or handheld.

Morning will be spent in the classroom, with the afternoon at nearby Woodland Park practicing your technique. Lunch provided. Limited to 15 people. Come and join us!
